

Hi fellow gamers;

I have included three of my own versions of the Battlematt for Lee Smith's B-25 Prince of the skies. They differ only in the visual effects I used for the ground. The latter two were my attempt to give an illusion of speed as this aircraft is flying at low level.

They should fit on US Letter size, remember to select 100% (or normal) in the print setting and borderless printing if you have it so the print will right to the edge of the paper. If there is interest I will add the files to suit A4 International paper as well this being the standard we use in Australia.

Regards;
D.Smith
